Careful driving at any time pays big dividends, but during the next three days it will be an absolute necessity if the highways are to be kept safe for the thousands of cars, crammed full of fun seekers, frequenting this area for what is anticipated the biggest Independence Day in the history of the district. Our highways are adequate, good and entirely safe and if caution is exercised there is nothing to fear, but passing on curves, driving on the wrong side of the white line, speeding and violating other laws and rules may end in disaster. Above all, a thought for the other driver with only a minimum amount of courtesy will guarantee a safe trip. Officers will be on hand to assist in keeping order, but it is not up to them to keep drivers safe. That's up to the drivers themselves.

In calling attention to the many improvements made in Truckee during recent months by businessmen who are exemplifying faith in the region by the expenditure of no small sums of cash we cannot overlook the Coca-Cola Bottling Company. This plant has been enlarged several times and thousands of dollars worth of new equipment has been installed. Only during the past two weeks a new bottling machine to speed up production and increase service to customers has been added and other improvements are planned. It is difficult to believe the wails of the crepe hangers that we are "on the skids" when evidence of this kind is presented in nearly every local establishment.

Speaking of local improvements, the Orlan Sanders Associated Station is not one of the least and the old fillin' station now stands out in glistening new attire and is the last word in motorist convenience.

There is still plenty of room for improvement on our streets, vacant lots and abandoned shacks and in some instances occupied dwellings, but slowly and surely the town is taking on a much neater and more presentable aspect.

Bumper Fourth Is Anticipated In This District

All Resorts Reported Full As Reservations Come In

WEATHER IS IDEAL

Biggest Season in History Is Seen For Area This Week

After a month of what might well be termed unseasonal weather, local resorts are today groomed for their biggest Fourth of July business in history.

Truckee, Lake Tahoe, Donner Lake, the Donner Summit area and everywhere that resorts exist, are prepared for excessive crowds and the highways from the torrid valley districts will probably be jammed as vacationists seek the cool and exhilerating clime and the unlimited pleasures offered throughout this region.

After frowning upon this vast recreational area for so long, Mother Nature reversed herself during the past few weeks and the climate is back to July normal with all indications that the resorts and other seasonal establishments will do a banner business.

Extensive improvements have been made in all quarters. Additional housing facilities are available and the district is now prepared to take care of far greater crowds than ever before. Reservations have lapped up virtually all available locations, but there is never a crowded condition in the region and everyone will find ample facilities for enjoyment.

Todd was cited for being on the wrong side of the white line and his driver's license was suspended by Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith after he entered a plea of guilty.

The injured were C. W. Morris, 58, Lilly Evans, 30, and Mrs. Howard Garrett, 20, who suffered minor cuts, bruises and shock. They were treated by Dr. J. H. Bernard. Traffic Patrolman Grover Keeter was called to investigate.

Two Escape When Army Plane Hits Near Local Port

PLANE IS WRECKED

Motor Stopped As Captain Attempted to Land On Field

The pilot and his mechanic in an Army pursuit plane, on routine flight from Portland, Ore., to Hamilton Field, Calif., were injured Friday night when the plane was virtually demolished in a forced landing at the edge of the Truckee airport.

The pilot, who declined to identify himself, said he was attempting to make a landing on the local field where he planned to stay over night, when his motor stopped and the plane crashed into the brush and rocks 150 feet from the east side of the field.

Before crashing, the plane was reported to have ripped off the antena of the radio at the caretakers home near the field, brushed through the tops of trees nearby and then nosed into the brush.

The pilot, a captain, who had been flying for more than 20 years, he said, suffered a badly sprained ankle and the mechanic sustained a cut lip which required several stitches.

This week a truck from Sacramento's air depot arrived and the wrecked machine was dismantled and carted to the capital where parts may be salvaged.

SCORES OF KINDS OF "COLD CUTS" ARE READY FOR SUMMERTIME'S EASY EATING

BUT YOU DON'T HAVE TO SERVE THEM COLD

"Easy eating" (little heat, less work, plenty of flavor) is just what summertime orders, and there are over 1,000 kinds of cold cuts to help you out! Your own meat dealer will be charmed to introduce you to dozens of these ready-to-serve friends. Meet such palate pals as bologna liver-sausage; salami; spiced ham; chicken loaf; liver cheese; Braunschweiger; lunar loaf; boiled ham; cervelat; veal loaf; pork roll; cooked tongue; pepperoni; minced roll; capicolla and headcheese.

You may buy your cold cuts "in the piece" or ring, in slices, in cans or in jars. You will use them (assorted) for the main dish, for sandwiches, of course. Sliver them for salads; chop or grind them for stuffing eggs and tomatoes; slice them for adding to au gratin potatoes, casserole mixtures. Remember that you need not serve them cold; they fry, broil or bake.

Ready-to-serve meats are prepared with the greatest of care, the spices carefully selected, the mixtures wholesome and nutritious and seasoned to the American taste. Nutritionists tell us that they're wealthy in food values and most of them are rich in vitamins, the liver sausage and pork types being especially valuable for laudable vitamin B-1 (thiamine).

You can indulge your foundness for those delicious cold cuts with a clear conscience; you can take your ease with these:

Bologna-Apple-Cabbage Salad

1 cup bologna, cut in cubes; 1 cup cubed apple; 1 cup shredded cabbage; 1 cup chopped nuts; ¼ cup chopped sweet pickle; 1½ cups sour cream dressing; salad greens.

Combine bologna, apples, cabbage, nuts and pickle. Mix with sour cream dressing (or mayonnaise or thick French dressing if preferred) and arrange on lettuce. Serves 6.

Ham Cornucopias

12 slices cold boiled ham; 1½ cups baked beans; 1 cup whole kernel corn; 6 slices bacon

To serve six, lay two slices of ham together. Mix baked beans and corn together; heat and divide among ham slices. fold opposite corners of ham over bean and corn mixture to form cornucopia; fasten with tooth-pick and cover with strip of bacon. Place in baking pan in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F) for 5 to 7 minutes until ham is heated through and bacon is crisp. Remove from pan with pancake flapper. Serves 6.

Summer Salad Rolls

1 cup diced pork loaf; 1 cup diced bologna; ¼ cup chopped celery; 1 hard-boiled egg, chopped; 1½ cups mayonnaise; 6 large oblong rolls

Mix together pork loaf, bologna, celery and egg; add mayonnaise sufficient to moisten and add salt and pepper to taste, if necessary. Mix together well. Split rolls lengthwise but not through; butter cut sides and fill with salad mixture. Garnish with additional mayonnaise, if desired. Serves 6.

Liver Sausage and Spaghetti

½ lb. liver sausage; 4 oz. medium sized spaghetti; 2 tbsps. butter; ½ cup dried cracker crumbs; ¼ teasp. salt; 1 cup tomato sauce

Cook spaghetti as directed on package. Brown the crumbs in 1 tbsp. of buttter. Slice liverwurst about ½ inch thick, cut into small cubes. Brown in remaining butter. Combine crumbs, salt and tomato sauce with spaghetti. Add liverwurst cubes; mix together lightly and serve. Serves 6.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

The celeration of our Independence Day is no idle holiday in a world where the independence of more than a dozen once sovereign states has vanished from the face of the earth efore a rising tide of aggression.

It is to make her own independence secure against that menacing tide that this nation today has plunged, heart and soul, into the task of building a military machine on land, sea and air, second to none.

Grave as that task is, it is no more difficult than that which faced the thirteen colonies in the days of '76. We pay tribute now to the courage and inflexible will of the statesmen of that time who led a fledgling group of states to challenge one of the world's mightiest powers, and to assert the right of those states to be free and independent.

But less remembered today, and it is well worth remarking, is the fact that the Declaration of Independence was then regarded by a large number of persons as an act of the most wanton and foolhardy recklessness. The people of the colonies were by no means united in its support. Many were totally indifferent to it. Others actively opposed military action of any sort.

Indeede, there was some reason for the claim of those who cried, "We can't win!" The colonies had no status whatever in the family of nations. Their finances were in chaotte condition. They were challenging the world's veteran armies. They were challenging the world's most potent naval power, a nation, moreover, supported by well trained and veteran armies. The American states had barely a handful of ships; its troops were inferior in numbers and training; there were no funds to finance a war. But the fearful and disheartened skeptics lost the day.

Victory went to men with the spirit of Washington, Jefferson, Tom Paine and Patrick Henry. It is those men whom America remembers and honors on her Independence Day and to the cause for which they fought America pledges its undying loyalty.

WINGS FOR AMERICA

by Don Wiley
MEMBER, AVIATION WRITERS ASS'N

The embattled British now have two 400-mile-per-hour fighting airplanes in service....the Hawker Tornado and the Typhoon.

The existence of these and other new British combat planes has been more or less of an open secret for some time (readers of this column may recall discussion of the new RAF types some weeks ago), but now the British public has received the first official announcement of some of the details of the Tornado and Typhoon.

U. S. Planes As Fast

It is interesting to compare the speed of the new RAF fighters with that of American-built pursuits. Both the Tornado and Typhoon, according to official British announcements, will hit somewhat better han 400 mph. at full throttle. The U. S. War Department has confirmed that three American ships—the California-built Lockheed P-38, the Bell Airacobra and the Vought-Sikorsky F4U-1 Navy fighter—are capable of 400 mph. plus.

In addition, there seems little doubt that another California fighter, North American's Apache (Mustang to the British and XP-51 to our Air Corps) is in the 400 mph. category, as is the new Republic Thunderbolt.

Has Heavy Firepower

Returning to the new British fighters, here is some more information:

The Typhoon is described by the British sources as "probably the fastest and most heavily armed and armored airplane in production anywhere in the world." The armament can either be machine guns or cannon. Later both may be combined. (Cannon and machine guns already are combined in the Lockheed P-38 and the Bell Airacobra).

The Typhoon's power plant is the new Napier Sabre, a 24-cylinder liquid-cooled engine, said to be capable of developing 2350 hp for take off and 1780 hp at its rated height. The Tornado, a little slower than its stablemate, is powered by a 24-cylinder liquid-cooled Rolls Royce Vulture of slightly lower horsepower.

Belated Credit

From private advices we learn that the Consolidated Catalina wasn't the only California-built aircraft to participate in the now famous pursuit and destruction of the Nazi battleship Bismarck. Four Northrop N-3PB patrol bombers, built by Northrop Aircraft, Inc. at Hawthorne and piloted by Norwegian airmen flying with the RAF, were in at the kill, scoring two hits with torpedoes on the German raider.

MODEL PLANE CONTEST

Sacramento, July 3.— Spurred by the National Defense Aviation Program, entries in the championship model airplane contest, to be held at the California State Fair, opening August 29 in Sacramento, are expected to set a new high record.

Modification of contest rules was announced today as plans for the annual contest, in which more than 500 youthful aviation enthusiasts participated last year were launched by fair directors.

The gasoline powered event will be controlled, with models being flown at the end of a 50-foot control line, instead of being a free event as formerly, it was announced.

Three major events slated are level flight, acrobatic and speed. In the acrobatic class, contestants must indicate the sequence of stunts to be performed by the model airplanes.

In addition, the glider planes must be smaller and lighter, the contest officials said.

EPISCOPAL BISHOP PERFORMS RITES AT LAKE WEDDING

Tahoe City, July 3.— The wedding of Miss Anne Milton to Leroy (Jack) Lovejoy took place here on the afternoon f Wednesday, June 25. The couple were married in the Episcopal Chaple of the Transfiguration near Tahoe Tavern with Bishop Noel E. Porter of Sacramento officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell C. Milton, prominent bay region couple who have been summer residents at Tahoe for the past twenty years. Mrs. Lovejoy had spent her summers and many of her winters here since early childhood and was well known here as well as in the social circles in the bay area.

About 75 friends and relatives attended the wedding and the reception which was held later at the Milton summer home near Sunnyside. The couple had only two attendants during the ceremony. The bride's brother, Pierce Milton, acted as best man, with a close friend, Miss Judy Soanes of San Francisco, as maid of honor.

The bride, in a gown of white satin with bridal veil of chiffon lace, and carrying a sheaf of butterfly orchids, was given away by her father. The bridal boquet, tossed over the heads of the guests by the departing bride, was caught by her cousin, Miss Helen Towne, of Oakland.

Decorations and appointments for the reception were in keeping with the occasion of a June wedding, with an abundance of fresh cut summer flowers and evergreens. Guest received original favors of dainty bags of rice tied with sprays of bridal-wreath and small packets of matches with the inscription "Anne and Jack" on the covers.

The bride and groom are spending their honeymoon in their own summer cottage at Tahoe Pines, where they expect to reside through the summer and fall.

Bob Huston made a nice catch of speckled trout Sunday in the Little Truckee rivre and Webber Lake.

TAHOE VOTERS O.K. TWO QUESTIONS AT BALLOTING MONDAY

Tahoe City, July 3.— At a local elecion held Monday and sponsored by the Tahoe City Community Center, the two propositions on the ballot were voted in by a large majority.

For the first of these, authorizing acceptance by the Community Center of money from the California department of highways, 57 votes were cast with only one opposing.

For the second, the building of a jail on the Tahoe City Commons, a majority of 46 votes carried the proposition, with nine voting against it.

The money from the highway department, if and when it is received will be used for improvement of the commons, and to rebuild the approach of the Tahoe City pier which was destroyed by fire when the Tahoe Mercantile buildings were burned down here in the fall of 1937.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bosen began the construction this week on their new home on Lakeview drive in Tahoe City.

Tahoe School Children See Annual One-Dog Circus at Term's End

Tahoe City, July 3.—Each year at this season, with the termination of the summer school term here, a small and exceptionally brilliant Boston bull terrier named "Barney" holds an open-house reception for the Tahoe youngsters going forth on their mid-summer vacations. Barney is the pet of Mrs. C. O. Valentine of the Valentine Cottage Court, and during the past week in her lake shore home near Tahoe Tavern, Barney and his mistress once more made merry and gladdened the hearts of two dozen school children.

The ten-year-old canine actor performed for his young friends all his old tricks and several new ones. His tricks are many as well as original and swinging by his teeth on a rope is among the most exciting in the opinion of the youngsters. He also says his prayers, balances a ball on his nose and rocks his baby doll to sleep, singing in the best bull dog fashion.

On the latest occasion Barney was presented with a new doll and was so excited over it some of his other tricks suffered in comparison with the baby-rocking stunt. Nevertheless, his young guests were very thoroughly and agreeably entertained, and later enjoyed outdoor games and mid-afternoon refreshments served by their hostess.

Tourists Encounter Road Work on Highway Forty While Crossing Nevada

Motorists traversing U. S. 40 across the state of Nevada must be prepared to encounter numerous pieces of construction, warns the National Automobile Club. Construction is under way at nine different places, beginning just east of the California Nevada line, and continuing almost to the Utah line. Some of the work consists of widening the present roadway, with traffic maintained; other projects are entirely new and on new location, with traffic routed over the present road.

With the exception of one project about 33 miles east of Lovelock, very little difficulty is being encountered. On this one stretch careful driving is necessary.

The road is dusty at a few points, rough at others, and numerous pieces of construction equipment necessitate slower driving where work is under way.

TAHOE PLAYERS TO GIVE COWARD PLAY DURING NEXT WEEK

For their second play of the season the Tahoe Players are presenting John and Kay Breeden in Noel Coward's "Private Lives", July 8 through July 13. The Breedens are the producers of the well-known Saratoga Little Theater where they have appeared in such modern successes as "Outward Bound", "Mrs. Moonlight" and "Biography".

For several seasons John Breeden was associated with the Henry Duffy Players and his charming wife has toured a number of professional successes throughout the world. Mr Duffy, since he began his revival of San Francisco stock, has been attempting to lure the Breedens back to his stage, but they have insisted on their annual summer at Lake Tahoe. The Tahoe Players, then, are exceedingly fortunate in securing their experience and talent.

"Private Lives" is Coward's gayest, wittiest and most popular comedy. It is the story of Amanda and Elyot, two bright young people who can neither live together nor apart. A love story, but not in the romantic sense, it is modern love, full of spice, wisdom, fun and frolic. From high comedy to farce, it is always in the realm of laughter.

It is the Breedens most successful play. This will be the fourth production in which they have starred. Supporting them will be two of the Players most able actors. Harold Millen, ne of Stanford University's outstanding acting and musical comedy stars, and Jeanne Smith of Las Vegas, Nev., play their respective mates, Victor and Sybil. Ted Marcuse, who is currently appearing in the Players first production, "Petticoat Fever", is directing the Coward play.

Pacific Tel and Tel Head Tells Of Effect of Defense on Profits

N. R. Powley, president of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., issued a statemen in connection with the release of the dividend checks to shareholders in which he commented on the indicated adverse effect on the company's earnings due to its huge plant construction program—in excess of 50 per cent over last year—now totaling more than $70,000,000, heavy increased wage payments recently effective and the forthcoming substantial tax increases.

In further commenting on the statement to the shareholders, Powley stated:

"Throughout the entire Pacific Coast we are making huge plant additions to meet the extraordinary service requirements involved in the Defense Preparedness and the accelerated tempo of business activity. Our working forces have been considerably increased in number and we now have in excess of 35,000 employes or over 5,000 more than a year ago. We have the highest payroll in the history of the company.

"Prior to the first of the year we estmated that our 1941 construction program would approximate $60,000,000 of which an aggregate of $48,000,000 would be exclusively for new construction. We now estimate that this program, which is still in a state of flux, will be in excess of $70,000,000 and it will undoubtedly be enlarged due to the continued unusual and unforseen extraordinary service demands. The plant requirements run into large figures—Land and Buildings $2,754,000; Equipment added or installed in Central Offices $21,320,000; Subscribers' Telephone Equipment $23,962,000; Exchange Cables, Wire, Poles, etc., $13,334,000; Toll Cables and lines for Long Distance traffic $9,452,000. We are adding new facilities in practically every city, town and hamlet in which we operate as well as materially enlarging facilities over Long Distance routes We are building, wherever necessary, entire new telephone layouts to meet the National Defense requirements.

"Th net gain in telephones in May was 10,641 as compared with 6,260 in May last year. Net gain for the first five months of 1941 was 61,59- as compared with 40,347 for the corresponding period of 1940.

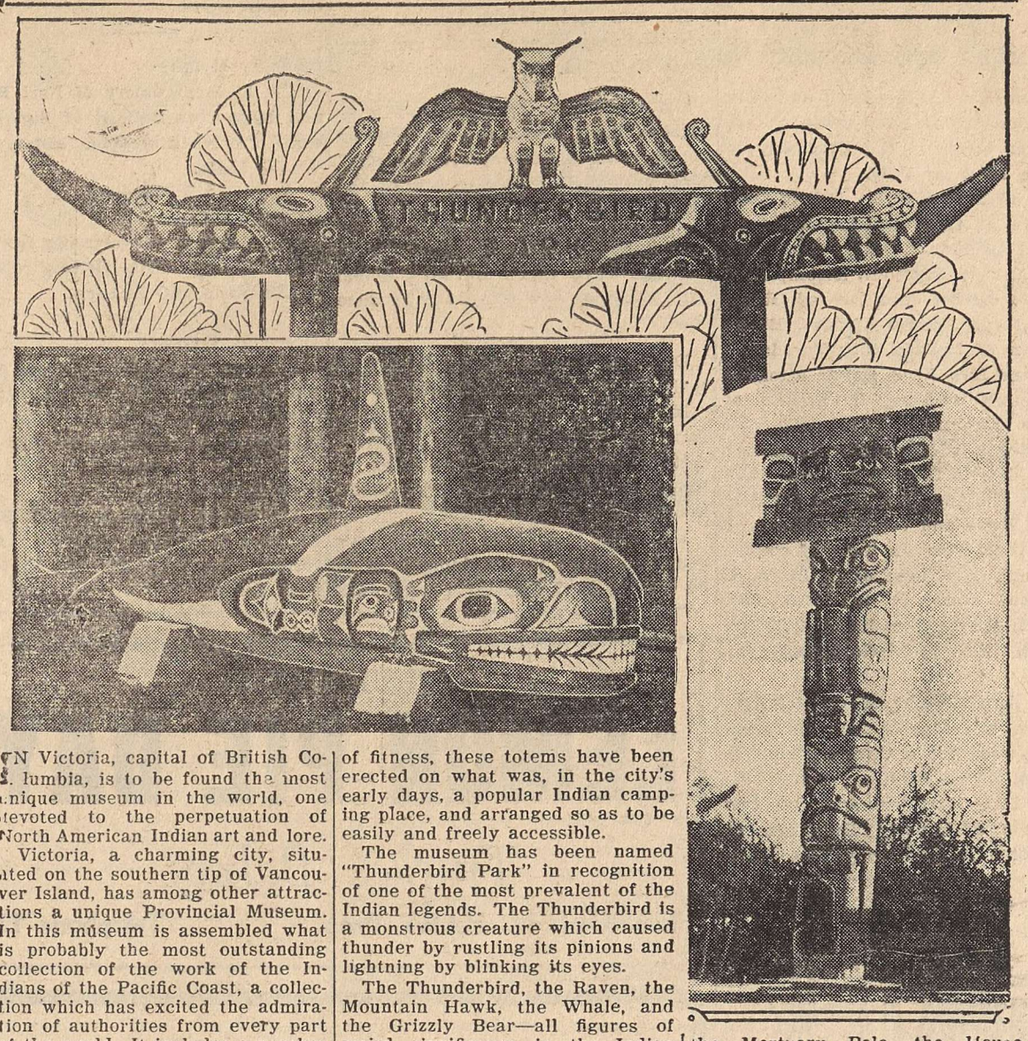
"Toll and Long Distance calls for the first five months of this year increased approximately 22 per cent over the same period last year.

"The present rate of telephone growth and increased volume of Toll and Long Distance business, both at the highest level in the history of our company, are due in large part to Defense Preparedness and, as such have assumed abnormal proportions Current rate of earnings may be considered only as temporary.

"The preliminary earnings figures for the first six months' period of this year are undoubtedly not indicative of the rate of earnings which will be experienced for the entire year 1941. Substantial tax increases must be expected and no provision is included in the six months' statement for Excess Profits Tax nor for an increase in Federal Income Tax. Costs, inclusive of heavy increased wage expenses, are rapidly rising. The unprecedented additions to plant are materially increasing carrying charges which are not yet fully reflected in the earnings statement. All of these factors will inevitably result in higher expenses and lower net earnings.

"National Defense considerations, in their full importance, have been prominently in the foreground throughout all our activities during the year. Our resources, facilities and personnel have been and are all directed toward our company playing its full, effective and patriotic part in our country's Defense Program. We take justifiable pride in the spirit and competence with which our entire personnel is meeting all of these activities."

Unique Outdoor Museum Perpetuates Native Art



VICTORIA, capital of British Columbia, is to be found the most unique museum in the world, one devoted to the perpetuation of North American Indian art and lore.

Victoria, a charming city, situated on the southern tip of Vancouver Island, has among other attractions a unique Provincial Museum. In this museum is assembled what is probably the most outstanding collection of the work of the Indians of the Pacific Coast, a collection which has excited the admiration of authorities from every part of the world. It includes a number of magnificent totem poles, which are easily the finest examples in the world of this form of native art.

With unusual judgment and sense of fitness, these totems have been erected on what was, in the city's early days, a popular Indian camping place, and arranged so as to be easily and freely accessible.

The museum has been named "Thunderbird Park" in recognition of one of the most prevalent of the Indian legends. The Thunderbird is a monstrous creature which caused thunder by rustling its pinions and lightning by blinking its eyes.

The Thunderbird, the Raven, the Mountain Hawk, the Whale, and the Grizzly Bear—all figures of weird significance in the Indian folklore have been carefully and artistically grouped in the Park. So too, have the several types of poles, namely, the Memorial Pole, the Mortuary Pole, the House Frontal Pole, and many others.

The whole ensemble is spectacularly impressive, and interesting to the student and sightseer alike.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

I've heard of a lot of clever merchandising stunts in my meanderings around but I think that "Pinky" Tonini has hit the apex. Next time you're by his grocery store, see if you don't stop and look in his window at the two kittens that sleep in the sun in the corner of aforementioned window. They attract more attention and comment than the most expensive and elaborate display would. But then Elden is a clever young man anyway you look at it and knows his way around in a business sense. He falls in the class of younger business men that is such a major community asset. His activity in the fire department, the chamber of commerce, the Masons and the Lions mark him as a civic leader. Yes, sir, we could do with a few more "Pinky" Toninis but the sad part about it is that there is—and can be—only one.

For several years I have had in my possession a copy of Heald's Business Directory of 1877 and there a couple of items in it that may interest my reader. Under the Truckee section is a list of about 50 business houses and this paragraph:

"The enterprising town contains a population estimated at 1,800; is situated on the line of the Central Pacific railroad, 119 miles from Sacramento city; is a great lumber shipping point. Here, also, the pleasure tourist takes the stages for Donner Lake and Lake Tahoe, the most popular resorts of California. The Truckee river flows through the town and is noted for the very fine fish that swim in its waters."

"In the advertising section we find the proud statements of the Truckee Hotel and the Truckee Republican (W. F. Edwards, editor and publisher) proclaiming their merits to all who will read. Incidentally, a subscription to the Republican in those "dear dead days, gone beyond recall" was $6 in advance. That was when the town was an infant of eight. Times (and the Republican) have changed—a mite.

Now I always like a good show (as is evidenced by my appreciation of the Shattucks' show house) and I've seen a lot of the Tahoe Players, but when I go up to Tahoe to take in one of their shows, I'll have one prime object in mind. That is, to see what Serena Frankel looks like. That girl—or young woman—has a name that catches the eye and holds the imagination and names are my weakness anyway. No mere Tillie, Doris or Hattie, but Serena. What a realm of possibility! There's a gal whose folks showed some imagination. (Post Scriptum: I'll bet she was a quiet baby).

NOTICE

to Recipients of Aged, Blind & Orphan Aid

The following telegram was received by the Nevada County Auditor last Friday morning:

Sacramento, California, June 27, 1941.
R. N. McCormack
Auditor, Nevada City, Calif.

Congress has not yet appropriated funds to finance federal participation for July aged, blind and children's aid. Probably delay in your receipt of federal funds will be approximately two weeks after congressional action. State funds forwarded by controller June 26.

MARTHA A. CHICKERING,
Director, Department of Social Welfare

Owing to the fact that Congress has as yet made no appropriation of funds to pay the three categorical aids, no warrants can be issued to the recipients of Aged, Blind and Orphan Aid until the last part of July, 1941, for the July aid.

R. N. McCORMACK,
County Auditor, Nevada County.
